BARBOURVILLE HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Rehearsals of the beautiful Japanese Comic Opera, "The Mikado" or "A Japanese Honeymoon," are going forward with marked interest on the part of those engaged in its promotion and in the preparation for the performances. The cast of characters is well chosen and capable to a high degree, the Choruses are efficient and most charming in all their work. There are to be special features by the children and young ladies as Fan and Flower Girls, Lilliputians and Cow-girls, which are bound to challenge the admiration of the beholder. The music is tuneful, yet of a high order. All the costumes are prettily attractive, the plot is unique, the dialogue witty and the situations decidedly funny.

Cast of Characters.

Mikado, Emperor of Japan— Prof. W. C. Faulkner.
Nanka Poo, his son— Prof. H. M. Oldfield.
Ko Ko, Lord High Executioner— Albert L. Baker.
Pooh Bah, Lord High Everything Else— Hamp Golden.
Fish Tush, A Noble Lord— Rees Golden.
Yum Yum, Ward of Ko Ko— Prudie Smith.
Peep Boo, Another Ward— Gertrude Turpin.
Pitti Sing, Another Ward— Beulah Nicholson.

Katisha, Lady of the Mikado Court— Sibyl Harris.
Pianiste to His Royal Highness, The Mikado— Lou Faulkner.
It is believed that a large house will greet the performers on the presentation of this most charming of all comic operas, Friday, Dec. 15th at the High School Auditorium.

Come out, patrons and friends of Education, and help us make

Cough Medicine for Children

Mrs. Hugh Cook, Scottsville, N. Y., says: "About five years ago when we were living in Garbut, N. Y., I doctor'd two of my children suffering from colds with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and found it just as represented in every way. It promptly checked their coughing and cured their colds quicker than anything I ever used." Obtainable everywhere.

a grand success. The Attendance-Punctuality Banner was awarded, this week, to Miss Barton's room, the 5th A and 6th grades, they having the highest average. The general averages of all the rooms for the week are as follows:

Miss Barton	98.40%
Prof. Faulkner	98.08%
Miss Pelly	97.69%
Miss Parker	97.67%
Prof. Mills	97.60%
Prof. Oldfield	96.00%
Miss Prater	95.88%

This makes a general average of 97.37% for the entire school, which is the best yet obtained.

Last Friday and Saturday, a most interesting session of the Upper Cumberland Educational Convention was held at the High School Auditorium. The exhibits in each of the rooms showed the high class work which the teachers and students are accomplishing.

The National Bank of John A. Black, has arranged for the distribution of some very valuable suggestions and information to the Farmers of Knox County, during the coming year. If you are interested in farming be sure to leave your name and address with the bank, and you will receive a specially prepared letter on farming each month during 1917 free of charge, each letter written by an expert, and contains suggestions, which if followed will mean much to the farmer.

Sunday School Influence.

In the year of 1855 a representative of the American Sunday School Union organized the Big Creek Sunday School. This school is located many miles from the railroad and has continued to meet regularly except for a short time during the Civil War.

From this little Sunday School in the backwoods there have gone forth; seven ministers, one missionary of the American Sunday School Union, one Lieut Gov. of Kentucky, one candidate for Vice Pres. of the U. S., seventy school teachers, thirteen merchants, ten lawyers and thirteen practicing physicians.

Many noted men and women have gotten the inspiration for their life's work in the country Sunday School. The country Sunday Schools are making noble contributions to Church and State.

Gilbert.

Mrs. Margaret Gilbert died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. S. L. Lewis, on December 6th, 1916, with a complication of diseases. She was born and raised on Goose Creek, in Clay County, fifty-four years ago. She was married to Ed Gilbert and to them were born four children, two sons and two daughters. One of the sons was drowned in Goose Creek several years ago; the other son, John, lives with the family. The daughters are both married. Martha married S. L. Lewis, of this city and Nannie married Henry Luck, who lives in Wilmington, N. C. Mrs. Gilbert was one of the good women the community regrets to lose. She was taken to her old home on Goose Creek and buried at the Bundy burying grounds.

Electric Sparks

The German Chancellor and Viscount Grey seem to think the war is to be decided by speeches.

Paper is now so high that people are beginning to understand why the ancients inscribed their messages on clay or stone tablets.

These new dimes are lovely, but it is a pity they did not come along in the good old days.

In permitting a shipload of Turkish tobacco to come to this country, the entente allies have shown that they admit the neutrality of the Turkish cigarette.

Benson, the Socialist candidate for President, asserts that food that should stay in America is being shipped to Europe for the benefit of food speculators in this country.

To old to be funny, a stage comedian killed himself at Chicago! Such a tragedy is no joking matter, but there is a whimsical thought suggested that even a comedian cannot afford to lose his sense of humor.

John D. Rockefeller is credited with having gained $8,000,000 in a single day. With that chap's luck and his appetite we feel we'd take an extra glass of milk by way of celebrating.

Utah and Vermont appear to have obtained a divorce.

Wilson—that's all, says a headline. Well, not quite all—there's Daniels.

From Virginia comes the story that a victim of consumption kept absolutely silent for one year and was cured. It probably is a question with many women if the cure is not worse than the disease.

Latest candidate for admission to the dictionary: Congresswoman.

For Sale.

I have for sale one of the best propositions in the city. It is a money maker for the right man. I will not give the name of the holder of the business, but will give full information to any one who wants to go into a business that is a real business. All the stock is new and an unheard of low price will be accepted for it. It is well situated in a place where the rent is right, and you will not have to move. Call on or addres W. H. McDonald, Barbourville, Ky.

When buying bread insist on having bread baked by the Model Bakery.

A Dinner for the Poor.

On Thanksgiving day Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Cody set a dinner to the poor children of this city without regard to sect or color, and when the dinner had been spread and all was ready, it was pleasing to see the little ones fire on the breast works of Turkey and to coax it down with rich dressing and coffee that Mrs. Cody had prepared. There were twelve white and eleven colored children who partook of the feast and after they had eaten all they cared to each one was furnished a lunch to take home with them.

Mr. Cody undertook to make up subscription for this purpose, but the citizens did not respond very readily, so he went on and gave the dinner on his own resources. This is a good step, and all should take due notice of this and try, not only on days of this kind, but at all times, to help those who are unfortunate and to bring a smile, if possible, to those who cannot help themselves.

John D. Rockefeller is credited with having gained $8,000,000 in a single day. With that chap's luck and his appetite we feel we'd take an extra glass of milk by way of celebrating.

Japanese Honeymoon.

Do not miss seeing the Mikado op Japanese Honeymoon Friday night, Dec. 15th, at 8 o'clock, at the High School.

The Tuesday Club.

The Tuesday Club was very highly entertained at their last meeting with Mrs. Hugh M. Oldfield hostess. The dining room in which the meeting was held was artistically decorated potted plants and the season's colors, brown and gold.

The president presided. At the conclusion of the business routine the leader for the day took charge of the program. For lack of time two numbers on previous program were deferred until this meeting. At first it was thought the afternoon program would be a little congested but the numbers given by Mrs. Flem D. Sampson and Mrs. S. A. Smith were so well prepared and interesting that the ladies were glad we had reserved the treat. One of our members, Mrs. G. R. Franklin, who has been quite ill, is convalescing and we hope to have her present at our next regular meeting.

The program occupied two hours and is as follows:

PROGRAM.

Thanksgiving prayer, by the leader, Mrs. A. W. Hopper.

Roll Call—Response from Whitier.

Reminiscences of the Red School House—Miss Gertrude Black.

The new method—learning by doing—Mrs. W. S. Hudson.

Some dangers of our educational systems—Mrs. W. H. Faulkner.

The Eventide Hour (postponed)—Mrs. G. R. Franklin.

Westward Expansion, 1815-1837, embracing principal events during the administrations of J. Q. Adams and Andrew Jackson—Mrs. O. C. McClung.

Principal events during administrations of Van Buren, Harrison, Tyler and Polk—Mrs. A. W. Hopper.

Slavery and Secession, 1850, the Taylor-Fillmore, Pierce, Buchanan and Lincoln administrations—Mrs. Wm. Carson Black.

Interesting events of the Civil War; accounts of the principal battles and assassination of Lincoln—Mrs. Elizabeth Archibald.

Last but not least comes the spelling. Every one enjoys that little diversion and is anxious and ready to begin to spell (frequently misspell).

After adjournment the hostess assisted by her mother, Mrs. Swearengin, and Mrs. Bassett Minton, served an elaborate lunch. You know at Thanksgiving time we heap the plates high with good things to eat and on this occasion the custom was carried out by our hostess.

Manchester on the Map.

In anticipation of the completion to this point within a fortnight of the C. & M. railroad quite a noticeable re-awakening in several long dormant or partially dormant interests has begun in the extensive and highly productive field of which Manchester, Clay County is the center. Among other activities it is reliably reported that the salt manufactories, suspended by order of military authority during the Civil War, when cannon balls were dropped into the wells, will be opened again for the first time by local and outside capitalists in the near future. It is said the salt industry at Manchester once made it the best known town in the Kentucky highlands, and the place of residence of many former distinguished and sterling citizens of the state.

In addition to the awakening of material forces, a manifest renewal of religious and educational influence has been begun, evidently to continue. Last week a series of highly successful meetings under auspices of the Presbyterian church were concluded here, and the present week another series of evening services has been begun under Baptist auspices. Rev. Dr. Walters, of Corbin, and Dr. Roach, former missionary to oriental countries, conducting the exercises in conjunction.—G. B. L.

What Will Villa Do Next?

We notice in the daily papers that Francisco Villa has gone on another rampage, and that he is cutting quite a slice these days, altho the United States has sent a punitive expedition into that country, and have chased about over the country looking for him, he is yet at large. Altho he has been reported dead many times, he is yet the living corpse any one has ever come in contact with. Altho he has been called everything from a skunk to a gentleman, and has been looked upon as the man who would soon have to yield to either Carranza or to the United States, he has outwitted them all and is yet raising the "dickens" all over the Republic of Mexico and is dreaded by those along the border.

Carranza is not able to cope with him nor will he be for some time to come. He will be harassing Carranza and giving the citizens of the United States worry until something is done to rid the country of him. If Carranza can not do this, who can and will? We, the people of the United States, will eventually have it to do. Then why not do it now? How much longer will this man, called a bandit, be allowed to roam at large, destroy property and killing any and all who may resist him in any manner. He is as heartless as a hyena, as venomous as a cobra, has the courage of a lion, and can outwit two countries. He has pillaged the cities of his own country and outraged their own women. He has not stopped at that. He has killed without remorse and hanged and shot without shame those of our country as well as those of other countries.

Villa is the Napoleon of Mexico. If he had money to finance his army he would make himself King of Mexico, and would convert that Republic into a Monarchy, and he would not be long about it either. Not but a few days ago he, with only a remnant of his army stormed and took one of the strongest fortified places in the whole Republic, took everything in sight, loaded many trains and fixed himself up for a greater campaign than that he has been pushing. It is said by some that he is headed this way and taking everything before him, and that Carranza and his men have not checked him in the least.

We stand now just where we did at the outset of this bloody war that has been waged so long in that sunny land, and we still say that we are none too proud to fight, or we should not be, and we believe that we should take country under the shadow of our wing and bring it out of that chaotic state that it has gotten into and make it a part of these United States, and make its people behave and teach them they must settle down and stop fighting. While the United States has a large area, there is yet room to take on more territory, and we do not believe there is any danger of getting too large.

Republicans, generally speaking, have no misgivings about 1918—or about 1920, either—for they regard the reversal of this year as due to causes which can and will be remedied.

Protective Effect of the War

The Minneapolis Tribune figures that Wilson got about three thousand of his votes in Minnesota through a trade between the Democrats and the Socialists. There is no doubt that the Republican national ticket was outrageously traded in many quarters, but this is the first suggestion that trading went on between any party and the Socialists, who are supposed to play a lone hand at the polls on election day. It has been asserted that the Socialists, in States where the blanket-bolot primary prevails, have been made use of to swing the nominations of one or the other of the old parties. But their stern political morality was thought to be immune against any blandishments on the day of the real election.

We stand now just where we did at the outset of this bloody war that has been waged so long in that sunny land, and we still say that we are none too proud to fight, or we should not be, and we believe that we should take country under the shadow of our wing and bring it out of that chaotic state that it has gotten into and make it a part of these United States, and make its people behave and teach them they must settle down and stop fighting. While the United States has a large area, there is yet room to take on more territory, and we do not believe there is any danger of getting too large.

The treasury deficit has passed the hundred million dollar mark. As soon as the administration can find some plausible excuse that will serve to cloud the real reason, there will be an issue of bonds,

Wet or Dry

It looks now like the next fight will be between the wet and drys, and the two big parties will try to see which one can get the dry plank in their platform first. It is plain to be seen that the next race for Governor of Kentucky will be a question settled. M. Hert has sounded the keynote and suggests an early meeting to arrange a platform upon which to wage the next campaign and we have heard it whispered that the Democrats will follow suit and get it into their platform as soon as possible.

The only mistake the Republican party made in the last campaign for Governor was they treated this question too lightly. Had they had the dry plank in their platform they would have cleaned the Democratic party from top to bottom. In the next race, let it be Democratic or Republican, there will be a day Governor, or at least he will be elected pledged to be dry. We do not know who the nominees of the two parties will be, but we would be willing to bet our last summer straw hat that one of the candidates for the Democratic nomination will be from the Mountain section and that he will be a dry Democrat.

The nominee of the Republican party will be alright, and we bet our old jeans pants that he will lick the fellow who comes against him.

The impotency of the President as a vote-getter for others than himself has now had two demonstrations. In 1914, the cry "Stand by the President" did not prevent the gaining by Republicans of a majority of the State delegations in Congress; and if it had not been for the iniquitous system of Southern representation, that body would have been strongly Republican. This year, on the plea that "he kept us out of war", the President gained a slender lead in the electoral vote while the lower house of Congress apparently passed into the hands of the Republicans, who were almost uniformly successful with their State tickets all thru the North—the Southern situation again working to the advantage of the Democrats.

The simultaneous advertising of the $50,000,000 Russian loan and the $5,000,000 Chinese loan which the newspapers have lately been carrying furnishes one striking argument in refutation of the "kept us out of war" slogan. So long as foreign nations, whether at war or in peace, look to us for food, for materials and for money they will not permit us to get into war under any circumstances.

One noted economist says that "industrial classes are full of indignation that the farmers should be obtaining such inordinate prices for what they have produced". Well, we do not know of any law that prohibits some of these industrial workers in the cities from engaging in farming. But we would remind them that the eight-hour-day has no place on the farm.

Although the price of shoes has advanced 40 per cent or more it is not likely that the purchaser will find much increase in the annual cost of shoes. Most people will wear their shoes longer, have them patched and half-soled—and thereby nearly make up the increased original cost.

In 1918 the President's own fortunes and personality will not be an issue. That campaign will turn upon a wider survey of the Democratic administration's work than has yet been had, and the value of the policies which the President espouses or which will be thrust upon him—especially by organized labor—may then be passed upon.

Good Farm For Sale

Danger Signal.

If the fire bell should ring would you run and stop it or would you go and help put out the fire? It is much the same with a cough. A cough is a danger signal as much as a fire bell. You should no more try to suppress it than to stop a fire bell when it is ringing, but should cure the disease that causes the coughing. This can nearly always be done by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many have used it with the most beneficial results. It is especially valuable for the persistent cough that so often follows a bad cold or an attack of the grip. Mrs. Thomas Beeching, Andrews, Indiana, writes: "During the winter my husband takes cold easily and coughs and coughs. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine for breaking up these attacks and you cannot get him to take any other." Obtainable everywhere.

DO YOU WANT A GOOD FARM?

If you do, I have one of about 40 acres, of good level land in Laurel County, about three miles north-west of Corbin, and within half mile of the railroad; in a good community; close to a school and church. It has three dwelling houses, barns, and an orchard and other good improvement. A splendid home and a big bargain if taken at once.

Will sub-divide into small tracts if desired. Call or write, F. D. SAMPSON, Barbourville, Ky.

FOR SALE

A tract of land containing 30 acres, about half of it is level and the other half is timbered land, located just across the Big Richland bridge, and is just outside of the corporate limits of the city, but is within the Free Grade school district where we have a good school as is to be found. I will sell this place cheap for cash in hand. Call on address, W. H. McDONALD, Barbourville, Ky.

No power can keep prices down. If any classes in this country are so poor that an additional cent or two on a loaf of bread makes the difference between enough to eat and not enough to eat, the solution of the problem will not be found in bakeries or flour mills. Probably it is better to raise wages than to try to keep prices down, even the prices sometimes overtake wages in the merry race of progress.

Lewis Sampson's Work

Lewis D. Sampson, of 10 S. LaSalle St., Chicago, who was here for Thanksgiving with his father and mother, left Thursday night for New Orleans to manage a great membership campaign for the New Orleans Association of Commerce. That is a commercial organization which is working to increase the trade and commerce of the Crescent city. The work which Mr. Sampson is engaged to do is similar to the work in which he has been engaged for years; that of increasing the membership. Last August Mr. Sampson managed a membership campaign for the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and in six weeks obtained five thousand members, the largest number ever obtained for a similar organization. The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce had about 2,500 members when Mr. Sampson began his work. He added more than five thousand to what they had and gave them a working fund of more than $300,000 per year, the largest in America.

cult Judge of this district. We do not know who will be candidates but we predict if Mr. Lay enters the race he will make it interesting for his opponents, as he is a lawyer of considerable experience and ability, and is an experienced campaigner, hailing from the ranks of the common people, having been born and reared on a farm.—Whitley Republican., Dec. 2.

Judge Hook's instantion that the Adamson law constitutional recalls the st Tom Reed's admission to the which took place in Cali just after the Civil War. examiner asked him one que "Is the legal tender act constitutional?" Reed replied inst "Yes". To his amazement examiner said: "Young man, anyone who can answer a grave constitutional question like that in so short a time for reflection is surely entitled to practice law in the courts of California. You are admitted".

Bakers Handy Targets

Thus the rising cost of bread has brought a round of protest to baker and grocers, not because they are responsible but because they are the handiest targets for vexation.

Next Campaign Already Begun.

Washington, Dec. 6—Vance McCormick, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, announces that he is already laying plans for the campaign for Congress two years hence. Mr. McCormick is not alone in this determination. The Republican Congressional Committee is a continuous body, with permanent headquarters and a staff in this city, and is always of the job. The Senatorial Campaign Committee, which came into existence with the campaign of 1916, is another Republican organization whose functions do not cease with election day, and it, too, will maintain its activities. The next campaign has already begun.

ALL WRONG

The Mistake Is Made by Many Citizens.

Look for the cause of bad kidneys. To be cured you must know the cause.

If it's weak kidneys you must set the kidneys working right.

A Barbourville resident tells you how.

Mrs. Mayola Davis, N. Main St., Barbourville, says: "I had kidney complaint and suffered awfully with my back. I could hardly keep going and the action of my kidneys was sluggish and distressing. Different parts of my body were swollen awfully. Dark spots floated before my eyes and my sight was blurred. I used different medicines, but Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from the Costellow Drug Co. did me more good than anything else I had taken. They rid me of the pains and aches, the swellings disappeared and my kidneys acted regularly. My general health was improved also." 50c at dealers. Foster-Milburn C Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE Prince Albert red tin is in fact, every Prince Albert package, has a real message-to-you on the reverse side. You'll find it on the reverse side of the tiny red tin.

July 30, 1907. This means that the United States Government has granted a patent on the process which Prince Albert is made. And the whole world over where tobacco is sold you'll find Prince Albert smoking you in tiny red tins. By the way, the Prince Albert is made of fine tobacco and is that cleverly designed to hang the tobacco in such a way that before the tobacco is smoked it is ready to draw.

Colds

should be "nipped in the bud", for if allowed to run unchecked, serious results may follow. Numerous cases of consumption, pneumonia, and other fatal diseases, can be traced back to a cold. At the first sign of a cold, protect yourself by thoroughly cleansing your system with a few doses of

THE LITTLE SHOP
BACK IN BUSINESS!
IN FACT, NEVER OUT.

I have opened up my business in the store house on Walnut Street, between Knox and High Streets, known as the J. F. Hawn Store.

I will have any and all things kept in a FIRST CLASS LADIES' FURNISHINGS STORE and will be ready for business as soon as my new stock arrives.

I want to thank my many friends for their patronage and ask a continuance of the same.

The greater part of my stock was badly damaged by fire. All that is salable will be put on sale as soon as it can be arranged.
